

GREENWOOD
WILDLIFE
REHABILITATION CENTER

for 2023

Greenwood Wildlife Rehabilitation Center's mission is to provide compassionate care to orphaned, injured, and sick wildlife.

History of Greenwood

Founded in 1982, Greenwood Wildlife Rehabilitation Center was initially a small, one-room offshoot of the Humane Society of Boulder Valley. One year later, the family and friends of Natalie Gneiser — a young woman who was killed while trying to rescue an injured dog on the highway — donated memorial funds to this cause, allowing the Center to expand to help more patients.

During the next 14 years, the number of animals brought to the Center for care increased by 20–30% each year. Meanwhile, as Boulder grew, ensuring a quiet and secure environment for wild animals to recover became increasingly difficult.

Red Fox

In March 1993, the Center incorporated due to its continuous growth and was named Greenwood Wildlife Rehabilitation Sanctuary (officially renamed “Center” in 2008). “Greenwood” was the name of the Center’s first rehabilitated raccoon, which had been burned in a chimney fire. At the time of incorporation, Greenwood was operating out of a veterinarian’s office in north Longmont.

In 1997, Greenwood secured a lease from Boulder County for a property on Highway 66 between Longmont and Lyons. For the next 10 years, it operated out of two modular units on this site. Caging was built for raccoons, songbirds, squirrels, rabbits, coyotes, and foxes. In 2007, the Center received a contribution to purchase the previously leased property plus an additional 1.5 acres. Another large contribution provided funds to help build a new, state-of-the-art facility, with donations coming from many other supporters. Greenwood moved into this building in early 2009.

Fundraising efforts and the annual budget continued to increase with the addition of the Thrift Shop in 2004 and an annual major event, Wild Night for Wildlife, in 2009. In 2012, Greenwood relocated the Thrift Shop and expanded its retail efforts to include a Consignment Gallery, the only nonprofit store of its kind in Boulder County.

The Greenwood team has continued to expand our facility by building a waterfowl enclosure in 2017. We added a new crow aviary and finished renovations to our existing fox enclosure in 2019. In 2023, we added a lagomorph rehabilitation building to take in rabbits, hares, and picas. These improvements allow us to care for a greater number of orphans.

Essential components of our mission are education and outreach, teaching about the importance of protecting Colorado’s natural fauna as well as finding humane solutions to human-wildlife conflicts. Greenwood’s community outreach programs have been growing steadily and have readily adapted to the recent push towards online and virtual media.

Since its inception, over 200 different species have been rehabilitated at Greenwood. With only a small year-round staff, the majority of personnel needed to operate the Center includes the volunteers, interns, and seasonal employees who work diligently from March through October, caring at times for more than 500 animals daily. During these busy months, our Front Desk Team fields up to 100 calls a day, giving advice to the public on every imaginable type of wildlife question or problem. Greenwood currently has eight rehabilitators licensed by Colorado Parks and Wildlife, and our success rate remains high. As the only center providing care for a wide variety of species from north of Pueblo to the Wyoming border, Greenwood provides leadership to the wildlife rehabilitation community throughout Colorado and the nation.

Letter from the Board President

Dear Friends of Wildlife,

What an extraordinary year 2023 has been for Greenwood Wildlife! As we reflect on our accomplishments, we are overwhelmed with gratitude for the incredible support we received from our community. Together, we made a significant impact and saved countless wild lives.

For the third year in a row, we cared for a remarkable number of patients, totaling 4,007 animals representing 136 different species. This achievement is a testament to our dedicated staff, volunteers, donors, and the numerous partnerships we have established within our community.

Our relationships with local and state agencies proved to be instrumental in fulfilling our mission. Working alongside organizations such as Colorado Parks and Wildlife and local animal control officers, we were able to rescue many wildlife in need, giving them a chance to survive in their natural habitats. We also organized and led two state-wide educational seminars for rehabilitators to reinforce our efforts to provide quality rehabilitative care throughout Colorado.

For example, we were able to rescue and rehabilitate an injured porcupine that had been shot and was later found with a shoulder injury. Aurora Animal Shelter reported the porcupine and animal control was able to capture her and provide transport to our Center. Through our expertise, this critter made a full recovery and was successfully released back into her natural habitat. Her story exemplifies the impact we can have when local agencies, the community, and our organization work hand in hand to save wildlife.

We continued to foster partnerships with 86 total presentations and outreach events that help encourage responsible stewardship of the natural world. As we look ahead to the future, we remain committed to our mission and are excited about the possibilities that lie ahead.

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I want to express my heartfelt appreciation to everyone who has supported Greenwood Wildlife throughout the year. Because of your passion, dedication, and unwavering support, we can continue our vital work in wildlife rehabilitation. Together, we have made a significant difference in the lives of these remarkable creatures, and we look forward to accomplishing even greater things in the years to come.

With sincere gratitude,

Volunteer/Internship, & Education Program Summary

As we reflect on the remarkable achievements of 2023, Greenwood's dedicated team stands in awe of the progress we have made in caring for our local wildlife. With unwavering determination, we have provided a haven for over 4,000 wild animals—a testament to our deep-rooted commitment and passion.

None of this would have been possible without the invaluable contributions of our volunteers, who selflessly dedicated a total of 22,513 hours to support our cause. Their efforts have been instrumental in driving our mission forward. An incredible total of 398 volunteers and interns have played vital roles in animal care, education and outreach, fundraising, and so much more. Together, we have made a lasting impact.

During the bustling baby season from March to October, the majority of volunteer hours were devoted to the care of baby mammals, songbirds, waterfowl, and shorebirds. This critical period demanded immense dedication and expertise, and our volunteers rose to the occasion, nurturing these vulnerable creatures with compassion.

In 2023, we welcomed 77 interns into our ranks. These eager individuals underwent training under the guidance of our seasoned animal care staff, amassing a total of 11,337 hours of invaluable experience. Through our program, we not only imparted knowledge on the emerging discipline of wildlife and environmental conservation but also instilled in them the importance of becoming steadfast stewards of our shared ecosystem.

Thrift Shop & Consignment Gallery

In 2023, we continued to receive an incredible assortment of items at our Thrift and Consignment stores. Whether we were helping donors with their thrift donations or selecting inventory during consignment appointments, providing excellent customer service remained a priority for us.

We have a great appreciation for our shoppers! It's enjoyable to see them in both stores, searching for the perfect gift, dress, addition to their collections, sofa, vintage Persian rugs, art, and more for their homes and wardrobes. This is what sets Greenwood Thrift Shop and Consignment Gallery apart as the top shopping destination in Boulder County. Everyone can find their ideal purchase at a fraction of the retail price.

We like to remind our customers that buying well-made, pre-owned items is a better choice than buying new. Not only does it demonstrate a love for our environment, but it also keeps unwanted items out of landfills and supports the care of orphaned, injured, and sick wildlife.

Reuse + Recycle = Rehab for Wildlife!

Wild Night for Wildlife

Wild Night for Wildlife is Greenwood's annual fundraising gala. This wonderful event showcases stories of wildlife rehabilitation, a live auction, and a heartwarming special appeal. We owe a huge part of its success to our amazing donors.
